

EUROPEAN SYMPOSIUM
Surface Science

3rd Edition

October 17-19, 2018

Nice, France

With focus on:

Science and Technology of Material Surfaces

Organized by

OBJECTIVES

The main symposium goal is to bring scientists, professionals and researchers from various areas together to present and discuss topics related to Material Science and Surface Science to promote improvement of new products and processes.

The EUROPEAN SYMPOSIUM ON SURFACE SCIENCE will be a unique event to encourage an unprecedented international cross-collaboration among fundamental and applied surface sciences and industrial world.

The conference will consider various new developments, both from an experimental and computational viewpoint. Special emphasis will be given to the application of advanced theoretical and experimental approaches as well as multiscale and multidisciplinary approach. In particular, the presented novelties will focus on the potential application and to the industrial fallout.

Previous symposia were held in Rome, Italy (2014) and Capri, Italy (2016).

Key scientific/technological topics of the symposium

- Smart Coatings and Surface Modification,
- Nanotechnology and Nanomaterials,
- Advanced Manufacturing/Processing and Characterizations.

as applied in:

- People's health and well being
- Safe, smart, green transportation
- Smart cities: environmental quality and mitigation of pollutants

PRESENTATIONS

The program of the symposium will include plenary and keynote lectures. Plenary lectures will be 40 minutes , keynote lectures 30 minutes including 5 minutes for questions. All presentations should be in English.

NICE

Nice, the fifth largest city in France, acts as a magnet attracting people from all over the world, for a multitude of reasons, Not only renowned for its grace, Nice has become a hub for research in industry, science and advanced technology since the creation of such centers as Acropolis and Sophia Antipolis. The Palais de Congres, a convention center, can accomodate diverse functions.

Both elegant and simple, Nice's charm comes from its exceptional climate as well as its beauty.

Even in the winter the cafe terraces are filled with people happily drinking and contemplating the ultra famous Promenade des Anglais. Always in flower this wonderful walk follows along the bay, looking out onto the Baie des Anges and the beaches on one side, and on the other such luxury hotels as the Negresco.

The architecture of Nice can be astonishing with the wild exaggerations of the Belle Epoque style or the Baroque influenced houses and mansions on the hills of Mont Boron. Fabulous creations have been realized in the floral gardens and parks of the hills of the Chateau, the Chambrun park or the Espace Massena.

The only way to get to know the real Nice is by strolling through the ochre colored streets listening to the "Nicois" speaking their own language (Nissart) and by tasting their savory cooking, One musn't miss the onion, anchovy and olive tarts called Pissaladieres, the vegetable and tuna sandwiches known as Pan Bagnat, the Salade Nicoise or the famous Ratatouille (tomatoes eggplant and zucchini squash stew). The main cooking ingredient is olive oil ot course, and many of the dishes are garnished with the succulent little black Nice olives called Caillette.

Nice is also a city of art and culture and after Paris, has the most museums in France. The city is animated at night as well as in the day especially in the summer with the Nice Jazz Festival held in the arena, the gardens of Cimiez, and the flower "war" on the Promenade des Anglais in which participate the prettiest women on the Cote d'Azur (French Riviera).

Each day on the Cours Saleya there is the great flower market where one can also find fruit and vegetables in the mornings. Each quarter in Nice is alive with markets, boutiques and restaurants making the whole city a lively place to visit.

This is the template for the Abstract to be submitted to European Symposium on Surface Science

Name Surname¹ of the presenting author, Name Surname² of second Author, Name Surname third Author³....

³ Affiliation of the third Author with postal address

Please use this template for the abstract of the papers to be presented at GIRS 2014. The abstract has to be written in English, the official language of the Meeting.

The maximum length of the abstract is one page, A4 format. The character is Arial, bold 14 pt for the title, bold 10 pt for the authors' names, italic 9 pt for the affiliation, normal 10 pt for the body of the abstract, and normal 9 pt for the bibliography. Images can be inserted within the text or at the end, with captions in Arial italic, 9 pt. Color figures will be reproduced in Gray. Please do not insert Tables.

The abstract has to be saved as Surname_oral.odt or Surname_poster.odt (where surname is the surname of the presenting author), and sent to eurosymposium@emasst.it, with "abstract for European symposium" as Subject. Only abstracts of registered participants will be considered for acceptance, so please register before submitting the abstract.
